DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dubner et al (5,210,354) in view of Joustra et al (EP 0345856) or Joustra et al (EP 0345856) in view of Dubner et al (5,210,354).

Dubner as disclosed by applicants discloses a process having substantially the same step as the applicants' claimed process except of using a heterogeneous catalyst for step (a) (see page 1, line 16 thru page 2, line 8 of the specification of this application; also see the entire patent to Dubner for details).

Joustra discloses a process including substantially the same as the applicants' claimed process (the abstract; pages 2-3).

Dubner is silent as using a heterogeneous catalyst for step (a) (see the entire patent for details).

Joustra is silent as the catalyst of step (b) (see the entire patent for details).

However, while Joustra disclose using heterogeneous catalyst for step (a) (abstract), Dubner discloses using a homogeneous catalyst for step (b) (page 1 of the specification of this application).

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the Dubner process by using the Joustra heterogeneous catalyst for step (a) to arrive at the applicants' claimed process since Joustra catalyst is much more active (page 3, lines 51-53).

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the Joustra process by using the Dubner homogeneous catalyst for step (b) since using any catalyst for this step in the Joustra process is expected to yield similar results.

Other limitations can be found in both references.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 11/08/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The argument that as explained in the specification on page 4, lines 17-28, the crude phenyl alkanol or substituted phenyl alkanol contains heavy components that are not removed is not persuasive since applicants do not excluded any purification step from the process claims.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
